Description

Welcome to Albion, a classic example of the highly coveted R W Davis traditional narrowboats, renowned for their craftsmanship and timeless design. Built in 1993, Albion showcases a meticulous layout and vintage charm, highlighted by a mid-engine configuration and an array of bespoke features that enhance both comfort and functionality.

Prepare your meals in a charming, fully-equipped galley adorned with side hatches featuring traditional "Roses & Castles" artwork. The galley includes a gas oven, grill, and four-burner hob, a 12V fridge with a freezer box, and a stainless steel sink and drainer set against marble-effect worktops. Storage is plentiful with ample cupboards and drawers. Modern conveniences include a microwave oven and a selection of kitchenware, creating a perfect blend of traditional aesthetics and contemporary utility.

Step into a cosy lounge that opens up to a large well deck through the bow doors, surrounded by cedar cabinets. The space is furnished with a solid dropleaf table, a swivel recliner chair, and a three-seater sofa bed, ideal for relaxation or hosting additional guests. Entertainment is provided by a conveniently placed TV, and additional storage is available in stylish wall cabinets.

Adjacent to the lounge, the dinette offers a flexible dining or working space, seamlessly integrating with the living area to foster a welcoming environment for eating or socializing.

This traditional boatman’s cabin features a drop-down double bed and an "Epping" fuel range, evoking a nostalgic ambiance with scumble-painted cupboards, a distinctive "Roses & Castles" décor, and a classic pigeon box. Modern amenities like an LED lamp and a washing machine are thoughtfully incorporated, ensuring convenience without compromising the boat's historic character.

The bathroom is fitted with gold-coloured taps and a shower over a 4-foot bath, a sink with a vanity unit, mirrored cabinets, and a radiator with a towel rail. A pump-out toilet adds a practical touch to this elegantly appointed space.

Albion represents an exquisite blend of traditional design and modern amenities. The wooden interiors exude a warm, inviting atmosphere, making it not just a boat but a moving home with a soul. Ideal for those who appreciate the heritage and craftsmanship of classic narrowboats, Albion offers a unique living experience on the water.

Discover the charm and elegance of life aboard the Albion, where every journey becomes a memorable adventure.
