Description

Sigoyna Pride is a truly charming example of a traditional stern narrowboat, built in 1980 by the renowned Hancock & Lane. Her beautifully maintained exterior features elegant paintwork that immediately catches the eye, offering a nostalgic nod to classic canal cruising. Full of character and cared for with love, this boat is the perfect companion for anyone ready to explore the waterways or simply unwind on the cut.

Step inside and you'll find a welcoming, well-appointed galley that brings all the comforts of home aboard. With a full-sized gas oven, grill, and four-ring hob, meal preparation is a pleasure. Whether you're cooking a hearty breakfast or a cosy evening dinner, the galley has everything you need for life on the water.

Moving forward, the generous lounge area invites you to relax in comfort. A large sofa offers the perfect spot to curl up with a book or stretch out in front of the log-burning stove. Practical power points, ceiling lights, and a TV make it a comfortable and functional living space, while ample storage keeps everything neat and tidy.

At the stern, the bedroom provides a peaceful and cosy retreat. The bed offers excellent storage underneath, and there's something quite magical about waking up with the stern doors open, morning light filtering in, and the stillness of the water all around. It's a view that never gets old.

The bathroom is compact yet well designed, featuring a walk-in shower enclosure, WC, and washbasin with useful storage below. Clean, bright, and functional, it ticks all the boxes for a comfortable stay aboard.

With a thoughtful layout from stern to bow—bedroom, bathroom, lounge, and then galley—Sigoyna Pride flows beautifully from space to space. This is a narrowboat that has been clearly loved and well cared for, offering not just a means of travel, but a lifestyle, she's ready and waiting to cruise off into the sunset.
